Our testing methods are flexible. Cost of testing is determined by what is being tested, time to test, number of participants, and location.